

ENGAGE

:: Impacting A Hostile World

Dear Parent,

As the parent of a teenager, you know your child lives in a world that has a great measure of influence over them. Your child has to make decisions all the time about who or what he or she will follow. Or who or what he or she will not follow.

Teenagers live in a world that can be very hostile to their faith. As Christ-followers, students must be influencers rather than be influenced by the messages they receive from TV, Movies, and the Internet.

How can students become this kind of influencer? The key is for students to be challenged to impact the culture instead of being impacted by the culture. They must learn to Engage.

I'm pleased to tell you that your child will be embarking on a meaningful time of Bible study and application, learning exactly what Scripture says about how to impact the world around them in the name of Jesus Christ. Using youthministry360's Engage Bible study resource, students will learn what the Bible says about:

- Evaluating their relationship with God and with the world around them
- Living like they are not of this world
- Living for the Lord and His Kingdom
- Engaging with the world as a light in the midst of spiritual darkness
- The cost of following Jesus and living an engaged life

You'll be receiving follow-up reminders from me as we teach these topics. I'll provide you with an overview of what we'll study as well as some follow-up ideas you and your teenager might use to continue this important conversation.

Please be praying for our ministry, your teenager, and your teenager's friends as we challenge them with this relevant, timely message from the Bible. We want to be known as a student ministry that is equipped and empowered to Engage the world around us.
